CCTV & Security Signs

The use of CCTV is regarded as a high-risk activity under GDPR. Data subjects, e.g. anyone captured on your CCTV systems, have the right to be informed when it comes to their personal data being recorded

- ▶ CCTV signs should be placed at all entrances where CCTV is recording and throughout your premises as a constant visual reminder
- ▶ You must let people know when they are in an area where a surveillance system is in operation
- ▶ The most effective way of doing this is by using prominently placed signs at the entrance to the surveillance system's zone and reinforcing this with further signs inside the area
