Adrenaline Auto Injectors
Anaphylaxis is a severe and life-threatening allergic reaction - it can be fatal if treatment is not given quickly

- Since 1st October 2017, the Human Medicines (Amendment) Regulations 2017 have allowed primary and secondary schools to buy adrenaline auto-injector (AAI) devices without a prescription, upon receipt of a signed order form from the headteacher
- Anaphylaxis tends to occur straight after coming into contact with a trigger, however it can occur a few hours later. Different people have different triggers, such as foods (e.g. peanuts, eggs or seafood), medicines (e.g. penicillin) or animals (e.g. bee or wasp stings).
- AAIs are highly intuitive and easy to use devices used for the emergency treatment of anaphylaxis
- Different brands of AAI are used in different ways. You MUST follow the instructions provided with your auto-injector
- To view our full range of adrenaline auto injector accessories visit EurekaDirect.co.uk

“These bags are vital in our school medical room. The plastic is thick and strong giving confidence that they will not leak any fluid. Once the strings are pulled at the top, it forms a very tight closure and any smells are contained within the bag. The absorbent pad works really well in soaking up excess liquid.”
