Martyn’s Law and Guidance For Schools

The Terrorism (Protection of Premises) Act 2025, known as Martyn’s Law, has received Royal Assent and become law. It requires organisations to take reasonable measures to prepare, respond, and reduce harm in the event of a terror attack, and will apply to education settings in its current form. Schools have their own guidance for major incident preparedness. We have developed straightforward products to expressly meet this guidance. The latest Department of Education (DfE) guidance recommends that education settings consider compiling grab kits as part of their incident response plans. Kits should include equipment that may be required during an emergency such as “communications equipment, useful information, and Public Access Trauma first aid kits.” Clear roles for protective security and preparedness, including Security and Incident Leads, are also recommended.

School Incident Grab Kit

Official Department for Education (DfE) guidance recommends that education settings “should consider compiling a grab kit comprising of key items that can assist during an incident” - an important consideration for Martyn’s Law compliance

- Demonstrate your commitment to protect those in your care by taking practical measures to be prepared for terrorist attacks and other major incidents
- Includes essential items that may be required during an emergency, such as a Public Access Trauma (PACT) Kit and 2 x Hi-Vis vests to identify key personnel
- Supplied PACT Kit comes with heavy-duty contents that meet official standards developed by experts, approved by the Home Office and counter-terrorism bodies (see page 33 for more details)
- Choose from 3 high quality bag options. All are extremely easy to transport and have multiple additional pouches and pockets to add your school’s plans, contact details, communication equipment, checklists, emergency medication and other essentials
- Choose from complete grab kits containing PACT Kits and 2 x Hi-Vis Vests, or empty bags pre-printed with ‘Incident Grab Kit’ for creating your own grab kit
- Complete kits are supplied with sign to ensure ease of location in an emergency

First Aid & Emergency Care Points

Ensure all your first aid kits can be easily located in an emergency

- Create an easy to identify focal point for all your first aid supplies in your school or workplace
- Each point is supplied with its own fully stocked kit containing supplies corresponding to each point; Emergency First Aid (see Standard First Aid Points), Burns First Aid, Emergency Eyewash, Body Fluid Clean-Up, Trauma and Bleed Control
- Warning panels advise when the kit is missing and how to order a replacement should one be required
- Slightly projecting signage at the top of the points allows for easier identification of supplies in an emergency
- Bright colours allow for increased visibility - each kit has a label with a corresponding colour
- Wall mountable - supplied with wall fixings
- Manufactured from 2mm rigid plastic
- Dimensions (H x W x D): 500 x 400 x 70mm
- Create emergency care stations by combining multiple points
- NEW Inhaler Points and affordable, all-in-one Complete Anaphylaxis Kits now available - see page 36 and online for more information

'Martyn's Law' Has Become Law

The Terrorism (Protection of Premises) Act 2025, known as Martyn's Law, has received Royal Assent and become law. Martyn's Law will mandate who is responsible for considering the risk from attacks, taking reasonable measures to prepare, respond, reduce harm and ultimately save lives with severe penalties for non-compliance.

As part of official preparedness guidance, ProtectUK strongly encourage all public and private sector organisations to “enhance first aid preparedness and response planning, so it takes into account the likely injuries which can be the result of a malicious event, such as a terrorist attack”.

Public Access Trauma (PACt) Kits have been designed expressly for this purpose and all organisations are recommended to have a “minimum of two” trauma kits on site within official guidance.

CODE RED Emergency Tourniquet
A robust, lightweight and easy to apply tourniquet to stop excessive bleeding from injured limbs

- Robust nylon webbing is sewn with high strength Kevlar thread, and tested to withstand 1000kg of tension
- Lightweight aluminium buckle and windlass retaining arms are tested to tolerate stresses up to 500kg
- Glass-fibre reinforced plastic windlass provides the high pressure required to occlude blood flow
- Round, high-visibility tab easily guides the strap into the buckle, saving time in emergency situations
- Integrated time band allows for recording the time the tourniquet is applied, which is vital information for medical professionals

Eureka Anaphylaxis Kits

Up to 50% of allergy sufferers don't carry their adrenaline auto injectors (AAIs) at a given time, and anaphylaxis can affect anyone without warning. Around 680,000 children in England live with allergies. 1 in 4 first-time anaphylaxis episodes, and 1 in 5 fatal food-anaphylaxis cases occurs in schools. Dozens of lives have already been saved using emergency anaphylaxis kits.

- Affordable, all-in-one solution for safely storing, clearly identifying, and quickly accessing backup adrenaline auto-injectors (AAIs) during anaphylactic emergencies
- One-off purchase with flexible replenishment options to suit your plans as they develop. Choose from EpiPen or Jext devices depending on familiarity
- Available with or without wall mounted points, or for use with your own storage options, to help minimise unnecessary cost
- Choose from 2 or 4 pen kits to suit your premises and budget, with the flexibility to reduce or add to your kits over time as you see fit. Select the preferred brand and correct dosage based on age requirements (do not mix with prescribed personal medication)
- Compliant labelling and signage designs meet ISO Standards and Health and Safety (Signs and Signals) Regulations for universal recognition
- Easy to install and maintain. Supplied with inspection tags to support simple monthly checks, in line with DfE guidance
- Supplied tamper ties provide an added layer of security to deter vandalism, while remaining easy to release in an emergency
- Supplied with additional FREE signage to clearly identify kits and ensure they can be quickly located
- For a complete schools solution to help meet DfE guidance, choose our Anaphylaxis Kit with School Policy Log, supplied with free signage and Emergency Anaphylaxis Pouch (see online)
- Free and Fast Delivery – AAI devices are dispatched separately in innovative, sustainable temperature-controlled packaging

"Exceptional Service - Highly recommend to schools"

"Great prices, fast delivery, pleasure to do business with."

Ordering just got even easier! Order online, via email, or by calling 0800 358 0085 – orders for any kit containing AAIs must be signed by the Headteacher/Principal. State product code below and quantity required.

CHOOSING EMERGENCY ADRENALINE INJECTORS FOR YOUR SCHOOL

Individual AAI devices (Below): For replenishing existing supplies as required, or adding to your own existing storage options or kits.

AAI Starter Packs (below): Store 1 or 2 emergency AAI devices, with additional DfE recommended contents. Ideal for smaller schools looking to offer emergency provisions.

Anaphylaxis Kits (left): Hold up to 4 emergency AAI devices across two different dosages, with instructions for emergency use. Ideal for emergency use in medium to larger schools.

EpiPen / Adrenaline Auto Injectors

Anaphylaxis is a severe and life-threatening allergic reaction

– it can be fatal if treatment is not given quickly

- The Human Medicines (Amendment) Regulations 2017 have allowed primary and secondary schools to buy adrenaline auto-injector (AAI) devices without a prescription, upon receipt of a signed order form from the headteacher
- Anaphylaxis tends to occur straight after coming into contact with a trigger, however it can occur a few hours later. Different people have different triggers, such as foods (e.g. peanuts, eggs or seafood), medicines (e.g. penicillin) or animals (e.g. bee or wasp stings)
- Different brands of AAI are used in different ways. You MUST follow the instructions provided with your auto-injector
- Some studies estimate that 40-50% of allergy sufferers do not carry their EpiPen or AAI device on them regularly – holding backup/emergency devices as appropriate for your premises saves lives
- A great way to stay dynamic with your emergency planning, relative to the level of risk, which can change frequently. Buying individual emergency devices periodically keeps costs down whilst facilitating premises have the 'right' level of lifesaving provisions
- Our low prices and fast, free delivery help every premises to remain agile with the amount of devices they hold without overspending

Important Notice

AAIs are manufactured with expiry dates that vary from anywhere between 9-18 months from date of sale. If you wish to clarify the use by dates of our existing stock before placing your order please contact our sales department on 0800 358 0085. Our stock management protocols ensure no AAI devices ever go to waste.

Economy AAI Starter Packs

Entry level storage starter pack to establish anaphylaxis provisions

- Department of Health state "It is good practice for schools holding spare AAIs to store these as part of an emergency anaphylaxis kit which should include 1 or more AAI(s)". Our NEW kits make it easy to meet this guidance
- School policy log provides essential AAI guidance
- Makes checking for parental consent in the event of an anaphylaxis attack easy
- A3 anaphylaxis poster informs staff of the correct action to take during an anaphylaxis attack
- See online for full contents list (with or without an AAI device)
- Any packs containing an AAI must be authorised by the headteacher/principal

AAI and Inhaler Emergency Points
Meet Department of Health guidance and ensure spare AAI and Inhaler devices are "kept in a safe and suitably central location"

- Create an easy to identify and accessible point to ensure your kit is "available for use at all times"
- Emergency devices must not be locked away, but should be kept out of reach of young children, whilst still being visible and accessible. Points are an excellent way of meeting this requirement
- Compatible with our full range of AAI and Inhaler Starter Kits and Storage Boxes (above and right)
- Ideal for displaying together, Department of Health state "Schools might like to keep the emergency kit together with an emergency asthma inhaler kit"
- Point is wall mountable, supplied with wall fixings and made from durable 2mm rigid plastic
